

Table of Contents

---

Introduction	7
1. Conduct a proper environmental health clinical review	9
2. Take into consideration that poor air quality is a cause of disease and exacerbation in chronic cardiorespiratory diseases	11
3. Don't limit yourself to recommending that patients "eat a bit of everything"	13
4. Combine the prescription for physical exercise with spending time in nature	16
5. Don't prescribe pMDI inhalers if there is a better option available	19
6. Don't overprescribe antimicrobials or broad-spectrum antibiotics	22
7. Don't write prescriptions without taking the carbon footprint into account	24
8. Don't dispose of medications in the trash, bring them to recycling stations	26
9. Reduce the carbon footprint of healthcare centers and doctor's offices	28
10. Don't leave the activism that we can do ourselves in other people's hands	30